

CROWDS PRAY FOR LIFE OF THE EMPEROR

LOYAL PEOPLE KNEEL AT SCENE OF MURDER OF ARCHDUKE FERDINAND

Manifesto is Issued Expressing Loyalty to the Emperor, Francis Joseph and Advising the People to Refrain from Agitation—Bodies of Archduke and Duchess Will be Transported to Vienna.

SARAYEVO, Bosnia, June 29.—Crowds of men and women of Sarajevo knelt in the street today at the scene of the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austrian throne, and his consort the Duchess of Hohenberg, and prayed for the life of the emperor and the souls of the archduke and duchess. There was weeping and sobbing among the populace. A long procession of Croatian and Moslem youths carrying black flags and portraits of the emperor and of the archduke and duchess marched through the streets followed by enormous crowds singing anthems and raising patriotic cheers.

Manifesto is Posted. The executive of the city posted throughout the city a manifesto expressing loyalty to the Emperor, Francis Joseph, and stating that for the welfare of the Hapsburg dynasty the people of Bosnia and Herzegovina were ready to sacrifice everything. The manifesto advised the people to refrain from agitation.

Bodies Go to Vienna. The bodies of the archduke and duchess were transferred to a special train today for transportation to Vienna. Anti-Serbian demonstrations today resulted in troops being called out to keep order. These demonstrations necessitated the proclamation of martial law and the commander of the troops at Sarajevo exhorted the people, saying "If you love your emperor, then go quiet" to your homes.

Two Bombs Thrown During Day. The majority of the populace immediately obeyed this request and tonight the town is quiet. During the day, however, two bombs were thrown, but only one person was hurt, the injury being slight.

The official account of the assassination issued today says: "The Duchess of Hohenberg collapsed against her husband and Field Marshal Oskar Potiorek thought she had merely fainted from the shock. He was strengthened in this belief by the fact that the archduke and duchess exchanged a few words in a low voice.

"It was not until the field marshal turned round after giving instructions to the chauffeur to proceed to the governor's palace that he noted the archduke, while still sitting quietly upright, had his open mouth full of blood. When the car stopped before the palace the duchess was unconscious. After she had been lifted from the car the archduke collapsed in the seat.

"The archduke died about a quarter of an hour afterwards and a few minutes later the duchess expired without either of them regaining consciousness."

A report was current here today that the archduke's last words to his wife were "Sophie, live for the children."

The Student Gavrio Prinzip, whose bullets ended the lives of the royal couple, confessed that he returned from Belgrade only recently, determined to shoot some high Austrian official in order to avenge Serbia's wrongs.

Several persons suspected of complicity in the crime have been arrested.

Bodies Carried to Vienna. Vienna, June 29.—The bodies of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg, were conveyed today from Sarajevo by special train to Metkovich, Dalmatia. From there they will be transferred tomorrow to a warship which will proceed to Trieste arriving there Thursday morning.

A special train will carry the bodies to Vienna, arriving at ten o'clock at night. Friday morning they will lie in state in the Chapel of the Hofburg and the public will have an opportunity to pass through the chapel. The interment will be made at midnight Friday at Artstetten, Lower Austria. The emperor will not attend the services, but will be represented by Archduke Charles Francis Joseph.

Mass will be celebrated in the chapel of the Hofburg Saturday and will be attended by the emperor and the members of the imperial family.

YOUNG BALDWIN DROPS WELSH IN THE EIGHTH

Jacksonville Boy Lands Haymaker in Eighth Round of Ten Round Mill and Pat Welsh Takes the Count.

Springfield, Ill., June 29.—(Special)—In one of the fastest athletic encounters held in this city in a long time "Young" Baldwin of Jacksonville again demonstrated his ability as a classy little athlete at the Moose Temple on the east side of the square tonight. The big gymnasium was packed to the doors. Baldwin's competitor was a popular local boy, Pat Welsh. The performance was slated to go 10 rounds, but eight was all that was necessary for Baldwin to close up the affair with a haymaker scene.

Welsh deserves credit for the showing he made, however, as his competition was fast for a beginner. Young Connolly and Begaski staged a preliminary match, which ended in favor of Connolly.

FIRE DESTROYS TWELVE ACRES OF BENJAMIN GREEN'S WHEAT

People Leave Church Services at Riggston to Fight Flames—Masons at Winchester Confer Third Degree—Other Winchester Notes.

Twelve acres of shocked wheat on the farm of Benjamin Green at Riggston were destroyed by fire Sunday morning, which also broke up the services at the Riggston Methodist church.

About 11:30 o'clock the people at the church, which is just a half mile north of the field, noticed the flames. Mr. Green was also at the church at the time and when they arrived at the field a number of neighbors were already at work in an effort to extinguish the flames, which were finally checked by plowing a furrow around the part of fire and beating the flames back. Had it not been for the timely work of his neighbors, Mr. Green said that about fifty acres more would have been burned.

Mr. Green estimates his loss at 490 bushels, which he valued at about $360. The fire was started from sparks from a Burlington passenger train.

Masons Give Third Degree.

At 6 o'clock the ladies of the Winchester Christian church served an elaborate banquet in the dining room of the church for the Masons. At the close of an excellent menu, come shaped ice cream with an American flag in the top, was served and while the Winchester orchestra played "America" the entire gathering stood and sang.

For the first time in a week the local station was in touch with Arlington, West Virginia, and on the night of day, 9 o'clock. Communication was also had with Sayville, Long Island.

Several members of the club are learning the "Continental Code" which is used by the wireless company. When everything is fully equipped the Jacksonville station will be the equal of any amateur station. As soon as everything is in working order the public will be invited to inspect the apparatus.

HOUSE SUBSTITUTES THE LEVER MEASURE

PASS BILL FOR REGULATION OF COTTON EXCHANGE THROUGH TAXES

Lever Bill is Substituted For Senate Measure Proposing Regulation by Means of Prohibiting the Use of Mails and Telegraph For So-called Gambling Transactions—Other News of Official Washington.

MONDAY IN CONGRESS.

Senate. Met at noon. Debate was resumed on the river and harbor appropriation bill.

Senator Burton predicted river and harbor bills would be unable to pass in the future unless the methods of appropriation were changed. Senator Chamberlain's resolution to recruit the army to war strength was favorably reported by the military committee.

Senators Thomas, Lea, Hughes Clapp and Kenyon were appointed to investigate charges of misuse of senate stationery in connection with a gold mine promotion.

Adjourned at 5:15 p. m. to noon Tuesday.

House.

Under suspension of the rules miscellaneous bills were considered.

The Lever bill for regulation of trading in cotton futures was brought up for debate.

Representative Underwood asked but failed to get consideration for a resolution extending all the current appropriation bills to July 15th.

Disputed items in the diplomatic appropriation bill were agreed upon.

Voted to continue current appropriations during first fifteen days of new fiscal year, because of delay in passing new supply measures.

Passed Hay bill to create a corps of veterinarians in the army.

Passed Lever bill to regulate cotton exchanges.

Adjourned at 5:47 p. m. to noon Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—

The house today substituted the Lever bill for regulation of cotton exchanges through prohibitive taxes for the senate measure proposing regulation by means of prohibiting the use of the mails and telegraph for so-called gambling transactions. The house put the bill thru under suspension of the rules by a vote of 54 to 21 and sent it to the senate. If the senate fails to agree to the substitute the differences will be taken up in conference.

Both Aim to Regulate Practices.

Both the senate and house measures aim to regulate alleged evil practices on the cotton exchanges which the cotton producers contend keep down the price of cotton.

Would Not Prohibit Transactions. The senate bill through the post-office department and the interstate commerce commission's jurisdiction over the telegraph would prohibit the transmission of quotations and lists of sales of cotton that did not comply with the requirements as to standardization prescribed in the bill. Both bills would regulate though they would not prohibit transactions in futures.

Relies on Taxing Powers.

The house bill relies on the government taxing powers proposing a tax of $1 a bale on contracts that do not comply with the requirements.

House Repeals Old Law.

With an unusual demonstration the house today passed unanimously a bill to repeal a section of the revised statutes which prohibits the payment of accounts, claims or other obligations against the United States in favor of any one who encouraged or sustained or in any way favored the "rebellion."

Close of First Fiscal Year.

Tomorrow marks the close of the first full fiscal year under the Democratic administration. Figures made public today showed that up to and including last Saturday the government's receipts had been $694,505,097.23 as against $699,084,417.60 for the corresponding period of the last fiscal year.

Will Add Heavy Receipts.

Today and tomorrow will add heavy receipts, especially incorporation and income tax assessments which are delayed until the last moment. Receipts for corporation and income taxes aggregated $6,627,566.24 Saturday, making the total collections from those sources for the year up to that date $32,285,636.87. The treasury department estimate of the amount to be derived from those taxes is $75,000,000.

No American Intervention.

There will be no American intervention in San Domingo so long as lives and property of foreigners are not recklessly endangered by the contending factions. Administration officials indicated tonight they thought the warring forces in the island republic had been sufficiently warned when the American gunboat Machias used her four inch guns to quiet the artillery of President Bordas which was bombarding the rebel town of Puerto Plata.

FIRE DESTROYS THREE BUILDINGS

HENRY RAYBORN OF SINCLAIR SUFFERS LOSS.

Flames Began in Hen House Where Mrs. W. R. Burmeister Was Using Coal Oil—Neighbors Assist in Keeping Flames From Residence After Barn Burns.

As the result of a fire which originated in the hen house on the premises of Henry Rayborn, three and one-half miles southeast of Sinclair Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, that building, a buggy shed and barn were destroyed, and only the assistance of neighbors saved the house. Mr. Rayborn resides in Jacksonville and W. B. Burmeister and family reside on the farm.

Mrs. Burmeister had been in the hen house using a torch to burn lice from the roosts. Later on she went to the house and got some coal oil. In some way the inside caught on fire and it was only by a hasty exit from the building that Mrs. Burmeister saved herself from catching on fire.

Mr. Burmeister was assisting his neighbor W. M. Walbaum to thresh, and from there he saw the smoke. In the meanwhile other neighbors were called and hastened to the premises. Among the first to arrive were Calvin Larson, Samuel Dunlap, William Settles, William Baxter and his men. Seeing that there was no possible chance to save the barn and other buildings the men concentrated their efforts on the house and saved it.

The smoke house which adjoined the residence caught on fire, but the roof having been saturated with water it was hard for the flames to spread.

The barn is about 22 by 60 feet and contained a ton of hay, one ton of straw, 150 bushels of corn, 60 bushels of oats, three sets of double harness, three sets of single harness, a number of farming tools, sled and other things. One horse was rescued. The buggy shed was a building 16 by 18 feet and contained a surveying harness and other things.

Mr. Rayborn lives on Grove street. He estimated his loss at $2,000 and carried insurance. Mr. Burmeister also lost several hundred dollars worth of property and carried a good insurance.

ALEXANDER PHYSICIAN MARRIES MISS LYDIA BACON OF NEW YORK

Ceremony is Performed at Home of Bride's Parents at Waterloo—Will Be at Home in Alexander After July 1.

Word has been received of the wedding of Dr. Wade H. Schott of Alexander and Miss Lydia Mandeville Bacon, which took place at the home of the bride's parents in Waterloo, N. Y., on the afternoon of June 23. In speaking of the wedding the Syracuse, N. Y., Herald has the following:

"A quiet, but pretty home wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joel W. Bacon, on the north road, when at one o'clock their youngest daughter, Miss Lydia Mandeville Bacon, became the bride of Dr. Wade Hampton Schott of Alexander, Ill., son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent E. Schott of No. 142 East Elisha street, Waterloo. They were unattended. The home was prettily decorated, the color scheme being yellow and white. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry E. Hubbard, rector of St. Paul's church, under a canopy of daisies. The bride was attired in a gown of white crepe meteor and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

"Only the immediate relatives and friends of the family witnessed the ceremony. A wedding dinner was served at 1:30 o'clock.

"The bride is a graduate of the Waterloo High School, class of 1908, and one of the best known young women of this vicinity. The groom is a graduate of the High school, class of 1909, and of the Chicago College of Medicine. He is a practicing physician at Alexander, Ill., but was for a year past a member of the staff of St. John's hospital at Springfield, Ill.

"Dr. and Mrs. Schott left on the 2:21 train for an extended wedding trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls and through the great lakes. They will be at home after July 1 in Alexander, Ill."

In an attempt to elude their friends, the couple set out in an automobile for a small town out of Waterloo, intending to catch a train there, but their auto trip did not end until they reached Clifton Springs, three stations from Waterloo. Even then their baggage did not escape, and it was thoroughly decorated.

EIGHTEEN RAILROAD PROMOTERS INDICTED

CHARLES S. MELLE AND OTHER FIN- ANCERS ARE INDICTED

Various Charges Against the Men Are Made by the Middlesex County Grand Jury in Connection With the Financing of the Hampden Road From Bondsville to Springfield.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 29.—Eighteen persons, including Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Boston & Maine Railroad companies, Frederick S. Moseley of Boston, brokers; the late Ralph D. Gillett of Westfield and the investment committees of two savings banks of this city, were indicted today by the Middlesex county grand jury on various charges in connection with the financing of the Hampden railroad from Bondsville to Springfield.

Road Never Operated. Mr. Gillett was president of the Hampden railroad corporation. The railroad was built a year ago as a link to connect the Central Massachusetts division of the Boston & Maine with the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad. It has never been operated. An attempt to obtain the legislature's consent to its lease to the Boston & Maine failed here. The indictments against Messrs. Mellen, Moseley and Gillett allege conspiracy to induce the investment committees of the two banks to lend a total of $45,000 to the corporation. The notes securing the loans were endorsed by the Hampden investment company, organized by Mr. Gillett to finance the construction of the railroad which cost approximately $4,000,000.

Indicted on Conspiracy Charge. The investment committee of the East Cambridge Savings bank is indicted on three counts of conspiracy to lend sums of $20,000, $16,000 and $9,000 to the Hampden railroad company. Those indicted are Gustavus Goepfer, James Ferguson, David C. Proutfoot, Charles W. Daby and Frederick B. Wheeler.

Other Bankers Indicted.

Similar indictments were returned against the investment committee of the Cambridge Savings bank. The amounts named being $25,000, $25,000, $22,500 and $20,250. The committee of this bank consists of Edward E. Cogswell, Enoch Beane, James E. Pennell, Harrie E. Mason and Leslie M. Brock.

Six Counts Charge Larceny.

Frederick S. Moseley was indicted also on six counts involving the alleged larceny of sums amounting to $112,500 from the banks and Mr. Mellen was indicted as an accessory before the fact on five of these counts. Ten other counts allege that Mellen, Moseley and Gillett "conspired to steal and did steal" various amounts involved in the transactions with the two banks. Members of the Moseley brokerage firm, including Sewell H. Fessenden, Neal Rantoul, Stephen R. Crowley, Benjamin P. Moseley and William S. Clough, were indicted on eight counts charging conspiracy to steal.

District Attorney Corcoran said tonight that the actual amount loaned by the two banks to the Hampden railroad corporation was only $45,000, but as each of the notes had been renewed several times, a separate indictment had been returned for each renewal.

Explains Bank's Investments. James S. Pennell, a member of the investment committee of the Cambridge Savings bank, said that at the time the bank's investment was made $1,400,000 of the corporation paper was taken up by different savings banks in the belief that upon completion of the Hampton road the Boston & Maine would lease it, with the consent of the public service committee.

Deny Any Conspiracy.

Emphatic denials that there was any conspiracy on their part in the purchase of the Hampden notes were made also by Gustavus Goepfer of the investment board of the East Cambridge Savings bank and Edward R. Cogswell of the investment committee of the Cambridge Savings bank.

Thinks Indictment Ridiculous.

"I consider the indictment for conspiracy ridiculous," said Harrie E. Mason of the investment committee of the Cambridge Savings bank. He said the committee had bought a note from reliable bankers offering for sale a security which anybody would buy.

BROTHERS WERE PRESENT.

In the account of the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crum of West North street, the names of Mr. Crum's brothers, who were present at the celebration, were omitted. They are Samuel H. Crum and family, M. M. Crum and family and W. H. Crum and family, all of Litchberry. They were the donors of the beautiful axminster parlor rug, which Mr. and Mrs. Crum received.

VOTING PRECINCTS OUTLINED.

City Engineer Henderson recently completed the drawing for the revised voting precincts of the city and submitted the plat to the council for approval. Some slight changes are to be made in the drawing and an electro will then be made and a number of maps or plats printed.

IS CIRCULATING PETITION.

George Stice is circulating a petition for the nomination for assessor, and treasurer on the Republican ticket.

GEORGE W. WILCOX DIES; NEAR CENTURY MARK

Aged Resident Passes Away at Passavant Hospital—Was of Scotch Descent.

George W. Wilcox passed away at Passavant hospital Monday evening at 9:45 o'clock from the infirmities of old age. He was born Oct. 24, 1821 in Addaberry, Oxfordshire, England and was consequently in the 94th year of his age. He came of a fine old Scotch family of Paisley, Scotland and emigrated to this country in company with his brother, John Wilcox in 1844.

They made their homes in Quincy and when the war broke out, both submitted themselves for enlistment. The deceased was rejected by reason of a dental defect, but his brother enlisted in the 50th Illinois Volunteers and received a mortal wound at the battle of Shiloh in April, 1862.

Mr. Wilcox had five brothers and one sister, he being the oldest and his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Eggers of Idaho, the youngest and also the only surviving member of the family. Mr. Wilcox was married in 1849 to Miss Mary Lester, daughter of Dr. D. Lester of Quincy. There were born to them two daughters, Mrs. J. P. Ransdell of this city, with whom for the last fifteen years or more he has made his home, and Mrs. Georgia A. Furry of Quincy. Mrs. Wilcox preceded him in death thirty years, and Mrs. Furry, 20 years.

Mr. Wilcox was affiliated with the Episcopal church and was a member of the Masonic fraternity. He was in business for many years in Quincy and bore at all times a name above reproach. He was of a cheerful disposition and was noted as an excellent conversationalist, retaining a clear mind and accurate recollection up until the last. His health has been very good until February last when he fell down a night of stairs and received a shock which probably hastened his death.

Funeral announcements will be made later.

PRESIDENT OF FEDERAL LEAGUE AND TY COBB MEET IN BUFFALO

Both Deny Rumor That Gilmore Has Made Cobb an Offer to Jump to "Outlaw" Organization—Merely a Pleasant Chat.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 29.—President Gilmore of the Federal League and Ty Cobb of the Detroit Americans met in a hotel today. Rumors that the Federal league official had made Cobb an offer to jump to the Federal league were denied by both Gilmore and Cobb.

"We just had a pleasant chat," said President Gilmore. "We discussed the baseball situation in general. The matter of his joining the Federal league now or at any further time was not raised."

President Gilmore stated that he came here to assist Hal Chase in freeing himself from the injunction obtained by attorneys of the Chicago White Sox which prohibits the first baseman from playing with the Buffalo Federals in New York State. Pending the outcome of the litigation no attempt will be made to play Chase either in this or any other state, Mr. Gilmore said.

I. M. BUNCE SLIPS AND MAKES LONG SLIDE.

I. M. Bunce of the Farm, sometimes having the appellation of "Deacon" Bunce, is able to be around after several days of hobbling. Going into the store of Mathis, Kamm & Shibe the other day he slipped on the iron threshold and before he could get himself together has slid into the front door. Mr. Shibe of the firm, went to his rescue and inquired the trouble when the "Deacon" replied that "he was making a desperate effort to reach third" and Shibe being versed in baseball parlance gave a hearty laugh. Two customers in the store winked at each other but Mr. Bunce informed the crowd that Macon, Mo., where he had just returned from several days was a dry town, which was the occasion of another big laugh. Mr. Bunce skinned his knee quite badly in the fall and had to remain in bed part of the time.

ADVISES BRITISHERS TO LEAVE THE COUNTRY

BRITISH MINISTER ISSUES WARNING TO ALL SUBJECTS IN MEXICO

Declares Shortage of Fuel is Growing More Acute Daily and That Trains Will Soon Stop Running From Interior—Mediation and Revolution in an Unsettled State.

MEXICO CITY, June 29.—In view of the existing conditions in Mexico Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister, today advised all British subjects temporarily to leave the country. He said that the shortage of fuel used in the operation of trains was growing more acute daily and that the trains probably soon would stop running which would make difficult the departure of persons in the interior.

The British minister's action is said to be the result of the advance of the constitutionalists upon the capital and also of the threatened session in constitutionalist ranks.

Sir Lionel Carden said he believed it to be his duty to urge all British subjects to leave the capital immediately and he especially advises that the women be removed.

Sight hundred British subjects are registered at the legation as now residing in Mexico City. The Brazilian minister said today that he has no fear of a critical situation arising in Mexico City. He believes conditions will improve and does not intend to remove his family from the capital, nor will he advise Americans to leave. The diplomatic representatives so far have failed to follow the example of the British minister.

WHITE HALL VOTERS TO DECIDE MUNICIPAL LIGHT PLANT QUESTION

Council Provides for Employment of Engineer to Make Plans and Specifications—Opponents Point Out Difficulties.

At a recent meeting of the city council of White Hall provision was made for the employment of an engineer to make plans and specifications for a municipal lighting plant, to be incorporated in an ordinance. This ordinance will be submitted to the council and then the people will be given an opportunity to decide the question at the polls.

Some time ago the council appointed a committee to investigate other municipal plants in the state which are engaged in supplying electricity for commercial needs, and to report to the council on the advisability of building such a plant for White Hall. The committee visited plants at Shelbyville, Vandalia, Sandoval, Carlisle, Breese, Lebanon and Salem and returned a report advising against the erection of such a plant. It was pointed out by this committee that the plants visited were being operated at a loss and that in the only town in which there was competition the plant was hardly able to keep running.

In the face of this report a petition was circulated and enough signers were secured to have the question submitted to a vote of the people. Two Socialists on the board of aldermen, Mr. Boehm and Jesse Morgan, are agitating the movement for the municipal plant, and while it is said that the other four members are opposed to it, they, nevertheless, voted for the employment of an engineer on account of the petition. At the meeting at which the question was discussed W. E. Sampson of Chicago, president of the Central Illinois Public Service company, was present and spoke.

The Central Illinois Public Service company has been operating the plant at White Hall for about two years and has a franchise that will not expire for some years to come. Their business rate per kilowatt hour is 9 cents and for residence purposes 13-1/2 cents per kilowatt hour. Opponents to the municipal plant point out that the idea is impracticable for the reason that this company already has a long time franchise both for commercial and street lighting in White Hall and that it has long term contracts with all the leading consumers of White Hall, so that a municipality owned plant would get only a very small percentage of the business and not enough to make it a success. It is also pointed out that the Public Service company furnishes one million kilowatt hours to one consumer alone.

MARKETS TO CLOSE.

The following meat markets will close at 12 o'clock noon, July 4th: Dorwart's, Widmayer's, Model (Smith's), Leck's and Wiegand's.

PERILS AND POSSIBILITIES OF THE GOOD ROADS LAW

Editor Journal. The Tice hard roads law is generally admitted to be a progress measure, and if rightly administered, one that has possibilities of great good. But it has perils as well as possibilities of good. The establishment of hard roads will direct the cross country travel very largely. In order to go thirty miles on a good road when other roads are bad, the traveling public will go ten miles out of its way, as it will then be a saving of time and expense.

There are some general principles that should guide the county commissioners in selecting the roads that are to be improved under the Tice law.

The roads selected for improvement should be such as will accommodate the general public, rather than the private individual, for it is the public money that is used to make the improvement. Therefore, those highways that are most generally used for travel should be selected. The county commissioners will have to meet the selfish clamor of private interests and fearlessly act for the general good.

The highways selected for improvement should afford the greatest possible safety to the traveling public. These are days of fast going, even on public highways, and good roads will accelerate their travel less the speed of public travel. Railroads are now a constant peril to public travel. Commissioners should unhesitatingly safeguard the public by avoiding railroad crossings wherever possible. If a hard road is established, the increased travel will daily increase the hazard to life and property at every railroad crossing on that highway.

Those roads should be favored, other things being equal, that have long straight stretches and the fewest turns. Sharp turns are places of danger. Long straight stretches are desirable for all kinds of travel.

Many other conditions deserve consideration, such as hills, bridges, distances, etc., but convenience to the largest number of the traveling public, safety to life and property, ease and convenience of travel are of the greatest importance in selecting the roads for improvement under the Tice law.

These questions are now up to the Morgan county commissioners on hard roads. The establishing of a hard through road through Morgan county in an easterly and westerly direction is doubly important, as it will become a section of the great national Ocean to Ocean Highway. To select the highway most suitable thus becomes a grave responsibility.

The most important contention is with reference to the road to be selected between Jacksonville and Springfield. The contest lies between the well known highway familiarly called the old state road, and a road a few miles south of it. To an unbiased citizen the chief advantage for so important a hard road are with the old state road. It is reported to be about five miles shorter than its southern rival. It is a broad 60-foot highway. It is for most of the way a straight stretch of road, with comparatively few sharp turns, less than half the turns of the southern road. It is traveled by four vehicles to one on the southern road, which is evidence of its convenience and favor with the traveling public. But most important of all and outweighing all other facts is the fact of its having but one railroad crossing between Jacksonville and Springfield, while the southern road has eight. Even if the southern road had all of the other advantages, which it has not, the fact that it crosses and recrosses the railroad eight times should disqualify it for selection as a hard road and a part of the great Ocean to Ocean Highway.

The chief argument for the southern road is that it passes through four villages. If those villages did not have the Wabash railroad, with its convenient train services, seven days in the week that argument would have more weight. But the fact that in order to reach these villages the traveling public must cross back and forth over the Wabash tracks is an overwhelming argument against the southern road. The old state road runs but two and a half miles north of these villages. Unlike an interurban, a hard road is no particular advantage to those living in the villages who have no conveyance of their own.

One has but to take a Morgan county map and trace the competing highways to realize the immense advantages of the old state road, with its convenient train services, seven days in the week that argument would have more weight. ### EAGLES HAVE NO TROUBLE IN DEFEATING ATHENS TEAM SUNDAY

Visitors' Errors Prove Costly and Locals Score Ten Runs From as Many Hits.

Athens was easily defeated Sunday by the Jacksonville Eagles at Nichols' park by a score of 10 to 1. Only seven innings were played. Athens' five errors proved very costly, but even had they played without a bobbie the score would have been 5 to 1 in favor of the local men. The base running of Stewart, who pilfered five sacks, and the home run of Allison, the visiting second baseman, were features of the contest.

How I Produced 12 Pounds of Beef From One Bushel of Corn.

I bought 44 cattle through Milton Marshall & Co., St. Louis, of Henry Wright, they averaged 961 pounds, March 19, 1914 in St. Louis. I put them in dry lots March 27th, fed them all they would clean up in 39 minutes, crushed corn, cob and all then cooked in the 50 bushel size Wood's Grain Softener.

I put them on grass May 25th, they averaged 1200 lbs. when put on grass. While in dry lot I gave each steer 5 lbs. clover hay. After they ate their grain, I kept oat straw before them all the time, but they would not eat over one bale of straw per day. I fed at 6 a. m. and 6 p. m., at regular hours.

I measured the grain fed with a No. 8 scoop, feeding 50 scoops at each feed or 100 scoops per day, all they would clean up. I put in 20 bushels ground cob corn and all into a 50 bushel vat. This will fill it making 50 bushels feed, which makes 4 feeds, all they will clean up. I drew 50 gallons of syrup off and added 50 gallons of water, then added 1 1-2 bushels of ground oats and shorts, with which I a meedling 80 pigs that are doing well.

I will feed the cattle about 30 days longer and would be glad to have any one interested come and see them.

HEIR TO AUSTRIAN

THRONE SHOT DEAD

Archduke Francis Ferdinand and His Wife Slain at Sarajevo, Bosnia.—Bomb Was Thrown at Them as They Were on the Way to the Town Hall.

Sarajevo, Bosnia, June 28.—Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austria-Hungarian throne, and the Duchess of Hohenberg, his morganatic wife, were shot dead today by a student in the main street of the Bosnian capital, a short time after they had escaped death from a bomb hurled at the royal automobile. They were slain while passing thru the city on their annual visit to the annexed provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Died in a Few Minutes.
The archduke was struck full in the face and the Duchess of Hohenberg was shot through the abdomen and throat. They died in a few minutes after reaching the palace, to which they were hurried with all speed.

Were Two Assassants.
There were two assassants, the first armed with a bomb and the second with a revolver. The bomb was thrown at the royal automobile as it was proceeding to the town hall where a public reception was to be held. The archduke saw the missile hurled through the air and warded it off with his arm. It fell outside the car and exploded, slightly wounding two side-de-camps in a second car and a dozen spectators.

Killed on Return Trip.
It was on the return of the procession that the tragedy was added to the long list of those that have darkened the pages of the recent history of the Hapsburgs. As the royal automobile reached a prominent point in the route to the palace an eighth grade student Gavria Prinzip, sprang from the crowd and fired a fusillade of bullets from an automatic pistol at the archduke and duchess.

Barely Escaped Lynching.
Prinzip and a fellow conspirator, a compositor from Trebinje, named Gabrinovic, barely escaped lynching by the infuriated spectators. They finally were seized by the police, who afforded them protection. Both are natives of the annexed province of Herzegovina.

The First Attack.
The first attempt against the archduke occurred just outside the girls' high school. His car had restarted, after a brief pause for inspection of the building, when Gabrinovic hurled the bomb. This was so successfully warded off by the archduke that it fell directly beneath the following car, the occupants of which, Count Von Boos-Waldeck and Col. Merizzo, were struck by shrapnel of iron.

NOTICE.
$100 reward will be paid for information leading to conviction of any persons tampering with water valves or mains without consent of commissioner of public property.
CITY OF JACKSONVILLE.

D. A. R. COMMEND

BUSINESS MEN.

The Rev. James Caldwell Chapter of the D. A. R. wish to state their satisfaction in noting the effort of the business men who are urging and planning a sane celebration of the Fourth. It is a holiday that is very significant to the D. A. R., so significant that they wish to see it celebrated in a fitting manner. That the merchants of Jacksonville have so readily given their support to plans for the day's safety as well as pleasure is indeed gratifying, and it is the hope of the D. A. R. that all houses of business will show their endorsement of such efforts by closing if not for the whole at least for the half day.

BISHOP WALKER 75 YEARS OLD.

MORE BREATHITT COUNTY FEUD TRIALS.

Winchester, Ky., June 29.—Another chapter in the history of the Breathitt county feuds is about to be written here. Today the case of Thomas Davidson, charged with complicity in the murder of Edward Callahan, former sheriff of Breathitt county, was called for trial in the Clark circuit court. Davidson is one of nearly a score of defendants in the Callahan murder case, nearly all of whom have been tried and some of them convicted. This is Davidson's second trial. The first trial was held last April and ended in a disagreement of the jury.

Dr. Clarence E. Skinner, professor of Therapeutics has written a valuable paper on dry hot air in the treatment of rheumatism, neuritis, brights disease, hardening of the arteries, etc.

He says in part: "Judicially administered body applications of hot air made with an intelligent and appropriate technique are not weakening as is commonly believed, but are under all circumstances and in all conditions the most powerful stimulant and general tonic measure to be found in our armamentarium."

He says further: "The advantages in hot air treatment consist in its power to accomplish either alone or in connection with other agents that which it is impossible for any other combination of agents to accomplish."

PUT SULPHUR ON AN

ITCHING SKIN AND END ECZEMA

Says Old-time Eczema Remedy Is Applied Like Cold Cream.

Any irritation or breaking out on the face, arms, legs or body, when accompanied by itching, or when the skin is dry and feverish, can be readily overcome by applying a little Cold-sulphur cream, says a noted dermatologist.

He states that bold-sulphur instantly allays the angry itching and irritation and soothes and heals the Eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position for many years in the treatment of cutaneous disorders because of its parasiticide, destroying property. Nothing has ever been found to take its place in treating the irritable and inflammatory skin affections. While not always establishing a permanent cure, it never fails to subdue the itching irritation and drive the Eczema away, and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

Those troubled should obtain at any pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream, which is applied to the affected parts in the same manner as an ordinary cold cream.—Adv.

Get the Grape Juice Habit. It Won't Get You

Welch's is the Pure, unfermented juice of the choicest Concord grapes. It contains no preservatives—nothing is added. Sterilization by heat prevents fermentation and the formation of alcohol.

In the first place grape juice is a food. Gluten and grape sugar—the most nutritious kind of sugar—make flesh and muscle; its nitrogenous elements feed the nerves and the brain.

In the second place grape juice is a drink. Men can live a longer time without food than without water. Grape juice supplies a perfectly pure water, sweetened and subtly flavored by nature herself.

In the third place, it's a tonic. It relieves exhaustion and stimulates without reaction.

FOUR YOUNG LADIES ARE GIVEN DIPLOMAS

GRADUATE FROM JACKSONVILLE
HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL

Address to Class Is Given by Dr.
Carl E. Black and Diplomas and Class Pins Are Presented by Dr.
George R. Zeller.

An interested and intelligent audience gathered at the hospital chapel in the annex of the Jacksonville state hospital Monday evening at 8 o'clock for the graduating exercises of the Jacksonville state hospital training school, when diplomas were awarded to Miss Effie Maude Casper and Miss Olive A. Sumner of Cobden, Ill., Miss Mamie Dial Harmon of Johnson City and Miss Neta Wilmoth of Corvallis.

The members of the board of administration, the state hospital staff, Dr. C. E. Black and invited guests assembled at the main building and marched to the annex. At the chapel they were received by the attendants and members of the graduating class, the men on one side and the women on the other. The chapel was decorated with evergreen and house plants and presented a very attractive appearance. Music for the occasion was furnished by Randall's orchestra. Dr. H. B. Carriel, superintendent of the institution, presided and the invocation was offered by Rev. J. W. Miller. After a musical number, Dr. C. E. Black was introduced and made the principal address of the evening.

Dr. Black addresses graduates. Dr. Black said in part: Mr. Superintendent, members of the staff, members of the graduating class, ladies and gentlemen, I assure you it gives me great pleasure to have the privilege and honor of speaking to you on this happy occasion. All citizens especially of Jacksonville and Morgan county should be proud of this beautiful and historic institution which was established in 1847 following the picturesque and effective campaign of Dorothy Dix in 1846. Here she found a responsive ear to her appeal and our people gave her every aid in seeking information regarding the treatment of the insane in our almshouses and private places. The example of this great and good woman should be an inspiration to every graduate who passes from these halls. We should take a moment to recall the names of J. O. King, Judge Thomas, Dr. H. K. Jones and others who were devoted to this cause. It was the determined zeal of these and many others of this early educational center that brought the legislature to develop here institutions for all its unfortunate—insane, deaf, blind and feeble minded (later removed to Lincoln).

There is little doubt that the real humanitarian interest which brought these institutions here has played an important part in protecting them from many mischievous political changes which have so beset some other institutions in this state. This institution has been receiving patients for 61 years. During this period three superintendents (Dr. Andrew McFarland, 17 years; Dr. H. F. Carriel, 23 years, and Dr. H. B. Carriel 12 years) have served fifty-two years. There have been nine superintendents in all, including Dr.

H. K. Jones who only served a few months while the board was finding a new superintendent after the supreme court of the state had decided that the board of trustees had the power to discharge him. We should be proud of the three superintendents who have been such in fact as well as in name—great men all, and by no means the least of them is still with us in the prime of his usefulness.

Men Did First Nursing. "The event which brings us together tonight naturally brings us to think again of Dorothy Dix and the great part which such women have played in bringing to the sick and suffering better care and treatment. In the early history of our country much of the care and nursing of the unfortunate was done by men, paupers and convicts, and only through the work of such women as Dorothy Dix, Florence Nightingale, Louise Schuyler, Sister Helen Lynda Richards and many other brave and noble women have we accomplished the wonderful revolution which has brought the modern training school. After Pastor Fleidner's school at Kaiserworth, from which Florence Nightingale graduated, Dorothy Dix stands out as one of the greatest humanitarians of the age. Jacksonville is particularly fortunate in having in her midst so great a one. In fact, our local Passavant hospital was an offspring of the Kaiserworth school through Dr. William Passavant, who brought the first nurse from that institution to America before the first training schools for nurses was established in this country at Bellvue, New Haven and Boston about 1872.

The training of nurses is a great work—a great opportunity. Think of what it means to the public and what an opportunity it gives women to help mankind. With the development of this work it has become almost exclusively a field for women. Even the doctors did not take kindly to the training school in the beginning. They did not appreciate the needs as well as the more sensitive mothers and sisters who had an instinctive desire to help the sick and suffering.

"The duties of a nurse fall under four heads. First, to herself; she must have correct deportment, with willingness and promptness of action; good health and an attractive appearance.

Second, to her patient; she must carry out instructions, allay anxiety, contribute to comfort and promote recovery.

Third, to her superiors. She must carry out the directions of the doctor, follow the instructions of her head nurse and the rules of her superintendent of nurses.

Fourth, to the public. She is responsible for the good name of her profession and the institution which she represents or in which she serves. The story the patient tells is the story the public hears, and what the nurse says and does in public makes up largely the estimate which the public forms of yourselves and your institution.

Nursing a Matter of Conscience.

Nursing is largely a matter of conscience. The true nurse is guided by that voice from within which compels right action.

"Modern medicine is new, but the modern training of a nurse is much newer. While the idea of caring for the sick has developed as civilization has developed, it seems to have lagged behind in its systematic organization, and its real beginning is quite within the memory of some who are still living. All countries from the earliest history have made some attempt to care for the sick, and hospitals were established by the Egyptians, Jews, Greeks and Romans and by all countries following them but practically all the early hospitals and all the early organized nursing was either for the poor picked up in the streets or taken from the hotel or for the soldiers on the battle field or in the barracks. It has been left for very recent times to develop the nurse as an essential factor of modern civilization, educated and trained in the arts and sciences of a profession and prepared to care for the sick, both rich and poor. Before the time of Pastor Fleidner and his Kaiserworth training school, in which Florence Nightingale received her training, the nursing of the poor and to some extent the sick rich was in the hands of the religious orders of sisters, just as in the dark ages the treatment of the sick was a part of the work of priests. Little progress could be made until this control of nursing of the sick could be placed a little further from the active religious duties of the orders. Invariably this combination with religion and nursing led to undue development along the religious line, and it required the advent of the trained nurse with an eye single to developing the care of the sick in its scientific as well as its humanitarian and religious aspects to bring to birth of this new and noble profession, which you now enter.

"I say this without intending to in the least degree disparage or underestimate the grand work of love and sacrifice performed by the women of the orders. God forbid that I should say a word which could reflect on the many noble women who have given their lives to this great work by the religious orders.

"The desirability of a profession of nurses aside and apart from the religious orders has been repeatedly notified by establishing in their own houses training schools for nurses who were distinct and apart from the sisters and never expected to become members of the sisterhood. This has been an important step in the evolution of the care of the sick, either poor or rich.

"We not only have hundreds of training schools all over the world, but in our own country and within a few years (1907), in our own state we have established a board of registration which will have an important voice in the nursing education of the future and will register all who have reached the standard prescribed by the state.

"I would not speak slightly of the thousands of women who, with a native instinct for the care of the sick and such training as they could pick up at the bedside, have done so much to relieve suffering and bring back to health the sick of their neighborhood. Many of us owe our health and our lives to the excellent judgment and watchful care of these noble and self-sacrificing, self-made nurses. They were the pioneers and you are the offspring of the work which they carried on so well.

A Pioneer in the Work.

"In our own town, up to twenty years ago, there lived in a good two-story log cabin one block from the public square a woman known the country over as "Granny" Carson. She devoted herself, without education or training except in the school of experience, to obstetrical nursing for over fifty years until she became the oracle on that subject. She kept a book always with her in which she made a careful record of each case, finally numbering over 2,000 cases. This woman had the true instinct of the scientific nurse. Her children resent her being called "Granny" Carson, but they are wrong. It was a term of endearment which she had earned in the community by a life of service. What better can any of us do? While we should never fail to show our appreciation of the pioneer work of the sisters in their houses, in the homes and on the battle field, and of the self-made nurse with the irregular and often inefficient training in the school of experience, we should never cease to work for the upbuilding of this new profession almost exclusively occupied by women. We must encourage and insist on a closer union between our training schools and our schools of general education. The question of preliminary education is one of the most serious ones of today. The scientific, technical and humanitarian education can not be carried on satisfactorily without a broad and solid basis of general education. There is such a demand for trained nurses, both special and registered, and of this a scarcity of applications that our training schools do some the injustice of receiving candidates without the necessary preliminary education to enable them to go on with the training in a satisfactory manner.

"The conducting of a training school is a subject in which the public has a vital interest. The young women who graduate from this school will have the care of the sick of some community or institution. While we send to the great cities for our supply of doctors, lawyers and dentists, we will depend on the graduates of our own training schools largely for the nurses who go into our homes, care for our wives and children in times of serious illness.

Community Must Assist.

"No hospital can support a proper training school without the active assistance of the community. Nurses require a suitable home in which to

WILL STUDY ROAD CONDITIONS IN 100 COUNTIES

Detailed Study Expected to Bring About Valuable Results.

The weekly News Letter of the Department of Agriculture to crop correspondents has the following article about road building:

Detailed studies of local road building systems in 100 counties are now being carried on by the department in cooperation with the State highway departments and local road authorities.

The purpose of this study is to discover the points of excellence and defects in existing local methods of building and maintaining roads which will aid the State authorities to put local road management on a systematized basis. The cooperating State authorities have been asked to designate counties that present typical features as to topography, character of road materials, methods of construction and maintenance, administrative organization, methods of road financing, and traffic conditions. From these lists 100 counties will be selected, and in these counties the Division of Road Economics will make intensive studies.

This investigation is prompted by the fact that there is at present very little knowledge as to the most effective and economical methods by which a county can develop its roads. At present the methods of financing local road improvements vary from calling on farmers for a certain number of days' labor in lieu of a road tax, or the use of county prisoners in road construction, to bond issues or maintenance of roads from dramshop license funds.

The department will study all of these systems with the view to determining what system or combination of systems works best in actual practice.

There is, moreover, at present no standard system of keeping accounts for road building and maintenance, and as a result, while some counties know to a penny the purpose for which money was spent, others have no definite check or reporting system. Among various counties with the same conditions cost for excavation or other labor is anything but uniform, and many counties, because of the absence of definite knowledge, fail to use local and cheap materials and construct roads which are unnecessarily expensive for their purpose, or which will wear out before the bond issues are redeemed. The investigation will include a careful study of the use of convict labor in road construction.

In connection with the scientific study the department's highway engineers will advise freely with local officials as to improvements and thus give each county visited the advantage of direct cooperation, engineering supervision, and assistance. These investigations, it is believed, will yield important economic data bearing especially on the benefits and burdens of road improvement and showing the extent to which financial outlay under given typical conditions is justifiable.

The heads of State highway departments are manifesting great interest and are cooperating cordially in this work. These data when obtained will be published and thus accessible to all county and State road officials.

The Fortune Teller

By WALT MASON.

A gypsy maiden, strangely wise, with dusky hair and midnight eyes, my future life unveiled, she said she'd read the lines of fate for many another trusting skate, and never yet had failed. She was a maid of savage charms; great brazen rings were on her arms, and she had strings of beads; with tinkles she was loaded down; the noisy colors of her gown recalled no widow's weeds. She told me I would live to be as rich as Andy or John D., my dreams would all come true; I'd have a palace on a hill, and vassals near to do my will, a yacht to sail the blue And as she told what blessings fine, what great rewards and gifts were mine, in low and dulcet tones, her nimble fingers ne'er rest, got closer to my checkered vest, and lifted closer my bones. She touched me for my meagre roll, that poor misguided, heather, soul, but still her victim smiles; she gave me dreams for half a day and took me with her to Cathay and the enchanted isle. Her glamor caused me to forget a little while the strife and sweat, the city's bricks and stones; she took my toll-worn soul abroad, and she is welcome to my wad—I still have seven bones.

PUEBLO VOTES ON NEW CHARTER.

Pueblo, Colo., June 29.—Whether Pueblo shall change the commission plan of government and adopt in its stead the old form of government by a mayor and other elected officials, aided by a board of eight commissioners, will be determined by vote of the people at a special election to be held tomorrow. Proposals to abolish the civil service commission and the preferential system of voting are also submitted to the people for acceptance or rejection.

GOVERNMENT EMPHASIZES VALUE OF ROAD DRAGGING

Records Show This the Cheapest and Most Effective Way of Caring for Highways.

Washington, June 29.—The road drag is the simplest and least expensive contrivance yet devised for maintaining earth roads, according to the experts in the United States department of agriculture, who are co-operating with state and county authorities in work for better roads.

Properly used, the drag gives the needed crown to the road, smooths out ruts and other irregularities, spreads out puddles of water, thereby accelerating the drying of the road, and makes the surface more or less impervious to water by smearing over the so-called pores in the earthy material. The cost of operation depends, of course, upon local conditions and the thoroughness with which the work is done. It is safe to say, however, that it is less expensive than any other efficient system of upkeep.

Farmers' Bulletin No. 597 of the department of agriculture, discusses under the title of "The Road Drag and How It Is Used," the best methods of maintaining earth roads in good condition by this simple device. In this bulletin, which has just been published, the department points out that of more than 2,000,000 miles of public roads in the United States only about 200,000 miles have been given a hard surface. It is true, of course, that a large part of the remaining mileage consists of roads that are entirely unimproved, and that on roads of this class the drag is practically useless. There is a much larger mileage, however, that has been partially improved, and it is on roads of this character—roads that have been crowned or drained, but have not a hard surface—that the use of the drag is advocated.

In its simplest form, the road drag consists of an ordinary log split in half and the two halves connected like the uprights of a ladder by means of cross sticks or rungs set in. The log should be about 7 or 8 inches in diameter, and from 6 to 8 feet in length. It is better to have it of well seasoned, hard, tough wood. The two semi-cylindrical halves of the log form the runners of the drag, and are usually spaced from 30 to 36 inches apart. The front runner is always placed with the split surface of the wood facing forward, but the rear runner sometimes has its rounded face in front. This is done in order to increase the smearing action of the drag as it passes over the surface of the road.

The two runners are not placed directly behind each other, but are "offset," as it is called, from 12 to 16 inches. This is done because the drag is drawn over the road at an angle sufficient to make the runners free themselves of the material which they scrape. The amount of this angle or skew depends, of course, upon the condition of the road. By making the runners, it is possible to make their ends follow approximately the same line on the road, which they would not do if they were set directly behind each other and the drag drawn at an angle with the road.

In order to provide standing room for the man, it is usual to nail two boards down upon the rungs parallel to the runners. Standing upon these a skilful driver will bear his weight in such a way as to aid materially in the successful operation of the drag. The drag is drawn by a chain which can be fastened by eye bolts to each end of the front runner, or one end of the chain can pass through a hole at the discharge end of the front runner, and the other end be looped over the rung at the cutting end of the runner. It is important that the hitching link should be so designed that its position can be changed readily. It is also desirable to provide a metal cutting edge for the front runner. This can be made from a strip of iron or steel, and old wagon tires have frequently proved satisfactory.

The cost of such a drag varies from $2 to perhaps $10 or $12. This practically insignificant outlay will secure an implement that will be of great service to the community for at least three or four years. The fact cannot be overlooked, however, that skill in the use of the drag is indispensable.

The angle that the runners make with the center line of the road, the skew angle as it might be called, is an important factor. For example, if the dragging is done to increase the crown of the road, the drag should be sufficiently skewed to discharge all material as rapidly as it is collected on the runners. On the other hand, the conditions may be such that it is desirable to carry along this material in order to deposit it where there are depressions in the road's surface. An intelligent operator will soon learn many ways of controlling the action of the drag. The length of the hitching chain, the disposition of the operator's weight, the time when the dragging is done, all these exert a marked influence upon the results.

As to the time for dragging, a safe rule to follow is to drag the road when the material composing the surface contains sufficient moisture to compact readily, but is not sufficiently wet for traffic to produce mud.

Since the weather plays so important a part in the matter, it is not usually possible to arrange continuous employment for teams on the road. It is therefore desirable, whenever possible, to have the dragging done by persons interested in the road, who will do it in the intervals of other occupations.

AN INTERESTING LIFE.

Dr. Thomas C. MacMillan Writes About the Late Bailey Dawson of Chicago.

LaGrange, June 20, 1914. To the Editor of LaGrange Citizen: The passing at a ripe old age of the venerable Bailey D. Dawson, chronicled in the columns of the Citizen this week, recalls several interesting matters not mentioned in your article.

Mr. Dawson lived as a boy in Jacksonville, Ill., and was educated in part in Illinois college. This was the home and the college of War Governor Richard Yates, with whom Mr. Dawson was long intimately acquainted and associated. The founders of Illinois college were members of the famous "Yale Band," and brought with them to this state in 1829 the traditions of Yale on the slavery question; the federalism and on education, which had been inherited in the "Ordinance of 1787" by Manasseh Cutler, a New England scholar, clergyman and statesman, which created the then "Northwest Territory." It was from this so-called "Little College" that the war governor graduated; his class numbering two members. From Illinois college went out as young men; who, as ministers, lawyers, physicians, teachers and business men, carried Whig doctrine to the counties in which they settled; and who, with graduates of Shurtleff college (Baptist) and McKendree college (Methodist) kept Illinois in 1860-65 in line for the policies of President Lincoln and on whom "this own great arm leaned for support" in the trying times of the civil war.

Mr. Dawson spent practically all his long lifetime in the public service. To his honor, be it said, that he was honest in every fiber and died a poor man. He might easily with his opportunities have "made money," but he never deviated from the path of rectitude either for place or self. In person he was below the average height. In manner he was singularly courtly. In speech he was clear, and gentle, and pure. In personal life he was above reproach. The poem to which your article referred, and which was republished in the Chicago Herald and written by Eugene Field, was a cartoon like some other verses which that talented writer should not have composed. Mr. Dawson never was known to give pain to any human being. He was always scrupulously neat in his person, as he was correct in his mode of life. I have several letters which he wrote from Springfield last year; and although then over eighty years of age, the penmanship is as firm and fine as that of a man of thirty or forty. His close relationships with public men gave him opportunities for knowing many of the "inside facts" of large events, and would have made his reminiscences of unusual interest had he been able to complete them.

For the past thirty odd years he has been a familiar figure in Springfield during the sessions of the general assembly. His acquaintance with the history of state legislation was wide and of much value especially to new members of the legislature. He was not in a professional or formal sense a newspaper man or correspondent, and yet was daily called upon by the members of the "Fourth Estate" at Springfield and in Chicago in political campaigns and the like for "pointers," which he always gave graciously and without measure. He could be firm, but never "stern," gentle and gentlemanly in all his ways; had a kind word ever; "kept no books," in politics, had friends in his generation in both parties, and will be missed in many a circle.

Thomas C. MacMillan Since writing the above, I received a copy of the Jacksonville, Ill., Journal, of June 17, which contains the following article, contributed by Hon. Ensley Moore of that city. Mr. Moore is an intimate friend of mine and personally knew Bailey Dawson well. He is a high authority on local and state history and has written extensively on these subjects. He is a nephew of the late Hon. W. C. Goudy of Chicago, an alumnus of Illinois college, and one of the best informed and reliable contributors to and members of the Illinois Historical society. Mr. Moore says:

Bailey Dawson's Guess. Abraham Lincoln spoke in this city one night early in 1859. After the talk Mr. Lincoln walked away from the place where he had spoken with Richard Yates, his co-temporary. The two statesmen passed along Bailey Dawson said to Benjamin R. Upham: "There goes the next president of the United States and the next governor of Illinois."

Mr. Dawson told the writer of this statement and the writer asked Mr. Upham about it. Mr. Upham corroborated Dawson's claim. This was surely not a bad guess, and, at the time, a great many people would have derided it.

ARE YOU GOING AWAY FOR THE SUMMER?

You will need the Jacksonville Journal and you can have it every day. If possible you will appreciate it even more highly than when you are in the city. It will be better than a long daily letter from your nearest friend at home. It will keep you in touch with Jacksonville, besides giving you, as always, all the news of all the earth.

Call up the Circulation Department, either phone, 64. Or if convenient to you and to prevent any possible mistake in transmitting telephone message, just mail a post card to The Jacksonville Journal Co., giving both the old and new address, and the change will be promptly made.

Price of Journal to any postoffice in the United States (address changed as often as desired) is ten cents per week.

TO HANG FOR KILLING PEDLAR. Halifax, N. S., June 29.—Preparations have been made for the execution of Edward Cook, who is to be hanged in the jail here tomorrow. The crime for which Cook is to pay the death penalty was the murder of Charles Assaf, a Syrian pedlar, at Sheet Harbor last December.

CHICAGO TAKES GAME FROM CINCINNATI 10 TO 7.

Argument Over Moran's Foul in the Sixth Results in Five Cincinnati Players Being Chased to the Club House—Other National League Games.

Chicago, June 29.—A near riot marked the Cincinnati-Chicago game which Chicago won 10 to 7. An argument over a foul by Moran in the sixth ended with Hobbitt, Manager Herzog, Mullane, Miller and Douglas being ordered to the club house. A player throwing Moran's bat to the bench missed his aim and the bat landed in the field boxes. Several spectators then charged upon the field but were calmed by attendants and players.

MILLINERY SALESMEN MEET
Chicago, June 29.—The eleventh annual convention of the Millinery Traveling Men's National association was opened in this city today, with headquarters at the Hotel Sherman. The attendance embraces several hundred members of the association from Kansas City, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Dallas, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Des Moines, Denver and several other cities. The convention will spend three days in the discussion of wares, railway rates and regulations and a variety of other topics of interest to the men "on the road."

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

The wise ginks throughout the country on Monday had much to say about that moving picture frame-up at Paris Saturday night. Johnson, in the opinion of many of the experts so-called, was "fit as a fiddle," and Moran's showing places him in line for the heavyweight crown, a goal he will reach if he succeeds in getting the big spade in the ring again. If Johnson was in condition, as these experts claim he was, the black man is slipping and slipping fast. Yes, he had gone back 75 per cent from the calibre he displayed against the boiler maker at Reno, Nev., July 4, 1910. At close quarters he was lamentably weak; his "deadly" right upper-cut had about the same effect on Moran as a rain drop has upon Colorado's famous Table Rock. Char-teuse, champagne, fast women and boisterous living in the Parisian cafes have sapped the splendid vitality which Jack once possessed, so that right now if hooked against Sam Langford or Gunboat Smith he would be unable to travel one-half the distance of the Paris fight until the count of ten would proclaim him ex-champion. A thing that looks queer in that Paris fight is the way the Pittsburgh blonde fought the big black man. Imagine such men as Tom Kennedy, George Considine and Willie Lewis, who were in Moran's corner, instructing the young pud-dler to play exclusively for the John-ton top piece when it is well known among all followers of the boxing game that the only weak spot in the Johnson anatomy is the stomach. The fight may have been on the level; but something more than the cabled account of the battle will have to be shown before a great majority of the sporting public in the United States will be satisfied that it was.

The White Sox delivered the best article of baseball Sunday they have shown since that run of eight wins when the season opened in April. They defeated St. Louis in a double header at Chicago, 2 to 1 and 3 to 2. Both games were carried into ten innings.

Honus Saunders did not "look like" nor "play like" Honus Wagner" very long in a Cub uniform. The college recruit is said to be a comer, but at present is a long ways from major league form. O'Day has shipped him back to Massachusetts for another year in the school of baseball.

In the Grand Prix de Paris Sunday Durbar II, the American horse owned by Herman B. Duryea, ran third to Sardanople and La Farina. The race was worth $60,000 to the winner. Duryea collected about $10,000 as third money.

"Bert" Gallia, who has been recalled by Washington, was given a terrific bombardment by the Millers Sunday at Kansas City. The "Old Men of the Woods" sloughed him for 9 hits in three innings for 8 runs. Joe Lake hurled for Minneapolis

SECURITIES REFLECT DULLNESS

NEW YORK, June 29.—With two exceptions—July 11th and Nov. 24th, of last year—today's business on the stock exchange was the smallest of any full day since the memorable blizzard of 1888 when New York was cut off from most of the world's markets. Transactions for the session amounted to 69,000 shares. The movement what there was of it ranged from irregular to heavy.

Opening prices were mostly higher in keeping with London which showed no outward concern over the assassination of Austria's heir. Standard and securities reflected the abnormal dullness to an unusual degree, some of them remaining unquoted for long intervals, while various inactive issues were not quoted at all. In the special group a late spurt in Continental Can common and preferred which rose four or more points and a decline of two points in General Motors, were almost the only features of the day. Domestic news was of a negative character including misgivings over the Mexican situation, a gain in the movement of Western Tonnage and a sharp break in the exchange which probably had the effect of abating exports. Transfer of $400,000 to the Pacific coast called attention to demands from that center.

HOGS ARE FEW AND POOR IN QUALITY; PRICES 5 CENTS HIGHER

Cattle Supply is Light—Proportion of Good Steers Small—Big Run of Lambs at Louisville.

Chicago, June 29.—Hogs were few and poor in quality, consequently anything fit for the shipper outlet was 5c higher. Other stuff had to be skinned off at $8.40 to $8.50, the highest prices in several weeks. Cattle supply was light and the proportion of good steers small. Anything above $8.75 looked 10c higher, cheaper grades being steady. Louisville had a big run of lambs, depressing prices here, packers object being to take off anywhere from 10 to 25c.
There were 105,000 hogs at eleven markets against 112,000 last week and 102,000 a year ago. The average weight of hogs received here last week was 238 pounds against 237 the previous week and 242 a year ago. The increased proportion of "grass widows" is responsible for the gain.

CITY COUNCIL HELD USUAL MONDAY SESSION

Tampering With Reservoir Valves Causes Leak Into Water Company Main.—Water Flowed From Pipe West of Chapin—Street Paving Ordinances Read.

The city council met Monday morning in regular session. The time was occupied principally in the second reading of an ordinance providing for the paving of South Prairie street and the first reading of the ordinance providing for the paving of North East street. After the usual routine of business reports from the departments were called for but none were received except from Commissioner Brennan.

Mr. Brennan reported that some trouble had been experienced during the recent days and because certain valves at the city reservoir on College Hill had been tampered with. There are three valves there near the stand pipe and one of them had been turned in such a way that water was running from the reservoir into the main laid by the Jacksonville Water company from Bluffs to connect with the reservoir. The valve was only turned partially but as it is a 20-inch pipe Mr. Brennan calculated that at least enough water to fill a three inch pipe was being run down this main. It has been noticed for a number of days that pumping did not fill the reservoir as had previously been true and this led to some investigation.

Subsequently it was reported that a good sized stream of water was flowing from the Jacksonville water company's pipe near the Roland Taylor farm one mile west of Chapin. When this fact was discovered it was at once apparent that a valve near the reservoir had been changed and it was later found that one of them had been opened five or six turns.

Commissioner Brennan reported that he was making such changes that it would be possible to have the valves in an enclosed box with lock and key.

To guard against further tampering Commissioner Knollenberg with a second by Commissioner Newman made a motion that the city offer a reward of $100 for information leading to the conviction of any person tampering with any city water mains or valves. Mr. Brennan suggested that the valves are located in an obscure place at the west side of the reservoir and that it might be a good policy to place them in the street at the east side of the reservoir where they would be easily accessible and in plain view of the neighboring houses. This matter was left to Mr. Brennan's discretion as the work can be done by regular city employees without a great deal of expense.

Mr. Newman suggested that the city water department really needs an automobile as it is necessary to make such frequent trips at various times of the day and night to such far separated points. The reservoir is at the extreme western limits of the city, while the Widenham-Daub wells are outside the limits at the northeast part of the city and the old pumping station beyond the limits at the southeast portion.

The ordinance providing for a Tarvia pavement on South Prairie street was given a second reading and was adopted. This improvement is to cost a total sum of $16,413.95 which sum is divided as follows: tar macadam, $11,817; curbing, $2,783.55; excavating, $587.50; headers, $84.00; brick catch basins, $125; iron inlets, $87.00; court costs etc., $929.

The first reading was given for the North East street pavement, which provides for Tarvia with concrete curb and gutter to be laid from East North street to the Washburn railroad. The total estimate for this improvement as prepared by City Engineer Henderson, is $2,694.75, which is divided as follows: tar macadam, $2,451; curbing, $660; excavating, $139; headers, $38.40; brick catch basins, $125; iron inlets, $72.00; court costs etc., $299.15. Public improvements ordinances are very lengthy and the city clerk was assisted in reading by Commissioner Engel.

EX-SENATOR SEEKS

GOVERNORSHIP. Denver, Colo., June 28.—Leading Democrats of Colorado are rounding up in the capital today for the state conference which is to be held tomorrow. The conference, or state assembly as it is termed by law, is one of the principal wheels in the complicated machine that makes up the primary system in Colorado. The purpose of the assembly is to recommend candidates whose names will appear on the ballot at the primary election in September. Any candidate for any office who receives 10 per cent of the vote in the assembly will have his name placed on the primary ballot provided he accepts the nomination. The Democrats are the first to hold their assembly this year. Interest centers chiefly in the contest for the nomination for governor. Among those whose names probably will be submitted to the assembly for the head of the state ticket are former United States Senator Thomas M. Patterson and Thomas J. Tynan, warden of the state penitentiary, both of whom are active candidates for the honor.

MORE WHEAT BURNED.

Fred Walbaum, Sr., Loses Twenty-five Shocks By Fire.

Sunday afternoon by some unknown means, the wheat field of Fred Walbaum, Sr., was found to be on fire. Fortunately the flames had not gained great headway and Peter Walbaum and John Flier were soon in the field and succeeded in putting out the flames before very great damage had been done though twenty-five shocks of grain were destroyed. The farm is situated north of Orleans and is by a road traveled to a considerable extent though not as much as a state road and how the fire caught is a mystery and Mr. Walbaum has no imagination of any enemy who would do him such an injury as he is a man who has the good will of all who know him and the time of day also indicates accident.

The grass in Nichols park across the lake caught fire recently but fortunately a gentleman was driving by and took the rug from his buggy and put out the flames.

Persons can not be too careful at present when all is so dry about dropping matches or in any way taking any risk of setting fire to fields of any kind.

George Schaaf of Franklin enjoyed a visit Sunday with John M. Hart and family on Hardin avenue.

OIL TREATMENT FOR

STOMACH TROUBLES

A simple prescription made up of a combination of pure vegetable oils for producing wonderful results for sufferers from stomach, liver and intestinal troubles. The remedy, which is said to have originated in France, where it has been used for years by the peasantry, was introduced into this country by George H. Mayr, a leading Chicago druggist, who cured himself of severe stomach, liver and intestinal troubles by its use. Those who have used it say the first dose is sufficient to convince anyone of its remarkable merit and that within twenty-four hours the sufferer feels like a new person. This medicine, which has become known as May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy, is now sold by first class druggists everywhere. It is now sold here by all druggists.—Adv.

SEEKS TO BETTER ICE CREAM MAKING METHODS

Pure Food Commission Issues Special Bulletin on This Subject.

Chicago, June 29.—Ice cream is made the subject of a special bulletin which is being issued to the ice cream trade by W. Scott Matthews, food commissioner.

"The unsanitary conditions that prevail in some factories call for reform in the present methods of handling of both raw materials and the finished products," says the commissioner.

"Much ice cream is carelessly made from undesirable raw materials and still greater quantities become unfit for food as a result of careless handling."

Particular attention is being given to the cleaning up of dirty ice cream factories. Standard dairy methods of cleaning and sterilization of machinery and utensils are being insisted upon. According to the bulletin, many manufacturers do not use sufficient care in the purchasing of their raw material. Good ice cream cannot be manufactured from dirty milk and cream, even where the modern equipment has been installed and sanitary methods are used. Pasteurization of the cream and milk used is being recommended.

The state standard for ice cream calls for a minimum of 8 per cent of milk fat. This standard is to be enforced in the interest of both the honest manufacturer and consuming public.

The use of imitation cream, made from oleomargarine oils and skimmed milk, in ice cream has been practiced on the part of some unscrupulous dealers. Persons manufacturing such ice cream contrary to the food laws are to be vigorously prosecuted. Ice cream flavored with harmless imitation or artificial flavors, or colored with artificial colors, must be plainly labeled in order that the consuming public may know the kind of product it is buying.

The commissioner strongly condemns the practice of improperly cleaning dishes and spoon so often met with in ice cream parlors.

Another practice which is to be tabooed is the returning of empty ice cream cans in a dirty condition. A can so returned may bring disease germs and thus be the means of spreading the disease over the territory supplied by the ice cream factory.

Dishes and spoons must be thoroughly cleaned immediately after being used and the cans washed and rinsed with scalding water as soon as emptied. These measures to insure cleanliness are compulsory under the sanitary food law.

The "hokey pokey" man and "ice cream cone" vendor will be compelled to live up to the same standard of cleanliness as the larger dealers. In commenting on the bulletin, Mr. Matthews says: "I would rather that all parties concerned comply with the requirements of the law willingly, but where I find it necessary I shall not hesitate to bring prosecutions."

"The rapid growth of the ice cream industry shows plainly that the public is fast recognizing it not only as a delicacy but a valuable article of food; containing as it does approximately twice the food value as the same bulk of milk, it often may serve the purpose of a lunch. Clean ice cream is a good food; dirty ice cream is a poison."

"The public is entitled to clean, wholesome ice cream manufactured under sanitary conditions and I mean to see that they have it."

FOUR YOUNG LADIES
ARE GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Five, proper class rooms and laboratories, regular hours for study and recitation and an efficient corps of teachers to supplement the lectures which the physicians give them. All these things require money. But every dollar which the citizens expend in providing facilities and comforts for the training school will come back multiplied tenfold in more efficient services to the sick and suffering in the hospital and in the home. I cannot do better than to urge every citizen to take an active interest in this most important department of your institution.

"Carlyle has said, 'Blessed is the man who has found his work.' How much more truly can we say, 'Blessed is the nurse who has found her work.' Each member of this class graduating tonight and each one who has graduated from this institution before you must determine whether or not these words apply to her or him. Have you found your work? It is only fair to assume that by the day of your graduation each one has answered this question in the affirmative. The scheme of the modern training school is built on the theory of enabling each probationer to discover whether nursing the sick is his or her 'work,' and by your presence here as candidates about to receive your certificates from this institution, you have answered yes, and are here to subscribe in spirit if not by actual signature to the oath of your most noble and exalted profession. Some here may not remember what constitutes the nurses' oath and it may be instructed to read it. With some slight modifications adapting it to our uses, it is as follows:

The Nurses' Oath.
"I do solemnly promise and swear that in the practice of my profession I will always be loyal to the patients entrusted to my care and to the physicians under whom I shall serve. That I will not make use of or recommend any remedy not prescribed by a duly licensed physician nor make use of or recommend any quack or secret nostrum. That I will be just and generous to members of my profession, aiding them when they shall need aid and I can do so without detriment to myself or to my patient. That I will lead my life and practice my profession in uprightness and honor. That I will not lend my aid to any criminal or illegal practice whatever. That into whatever house I shall enter it shall be for the good of the sick to the utmost of my power. That whatever I shall see or hear of the lives of men and women, whether they be my patients or members of their households, that will I hold inviolably secret; that I will continue to observe and to study and will strive in every way for the improvement of my profession, not regarding it as a means of livelihood alone, but as an honorable and upright calling."

"These are solemn words, full of the gravest import to nurse and patient alike, and yet the nurse who is not willing to govern his or her conduct and life in accordance with the lofty ideal contained therein should not accept a certificate or diploma from this or any other training school, and if after having accepted this certificate the time should ever come when you cease to live up to this standard, you should come back and surrender your certificate to the authority which tonight so generously and heartily confers it. In fact, some training schools reserve the right to take back the diploma at any time that its possessor ceases to regard its possession as a sacred trust. To some who have not given the subject thought, this oath may seem like a restriction of one's natural rights, but a closer examination of the conditions under which the work of the nurse is done, and the relations he or she must necessarily bear to patients as well as the family and the physicians, will show that the close observance of every thought in it is essential to success."

Diplomas Are Presented.

Dr. Black was followed by Dr. Zeller, who, before presenting the diplomas, said substantially: "My speech tonight will necessarily be short, for this document, the diploma which the young ladies will receive and for which they have worked so hard and so long, will be speech enough. It recites what they have accomplished, their qualifications and attainments, and is a fine possession."

"The old Jacksonville state hospital is an inspiration, for it is a hallowed spot hallowed by memories of the past and the work of the noble persons who were instrumental in bringing to pass this grand institution and the work for which it stands. In the parlor of the main building hangs the portrait of Dorothy Dix, the woman who did so much for the institution in its infancy and accomplished so much in promoting it and others like it."

"In our state there is every inducement to young women to prepare themselves for the work at its best, and when you see what is now required and what things are done for the unfortunate you will wonder how they did years ago, and I can only say, those in charge of such institutions lived up to the best light they had and that is all that can be asked of anyone. It is within 75 years that doctors in the army have been duly recognized. Before that time they were classed with hostlers and no commissions were given them or were even thought of, but as time passed they became more and more respected and in the civil war they were commissioned."

"Then the nurses and hospital corps were brought into use and each captain was called on for two men and at first they used to select the most worthless and trifling men they had and thus get rid of them. But later on this was changed, for it was discovered that the men for nursing needed brains and devotion—in fact should be first class individuals, but even that was finally found to be insufficient, and the trained corps of nurses was organized. Twelve years ago for the first time they accompanied the army to Porto Rico, and now they have a place on the roll of the army and women are regularly enlisted. I have seen at an army post two women to hundreds of men, and the women were duly respected and treated properly and now we have chiefs of divisions and head nurses and the government can throw into the field a large corps of trained nurses. This is no reflection on the men, but it is generally agreed that women are better fitted for the position of nurses."

"This diploma which I now read shows what qualifications you graduates have. It is a credit to you and authorizes you to follow your profession in any hospital in the state. It gives me great pleasure to present the diplomas to you in the name of the state administration, in the name of the board and of the staff and authorities of this hospital."

The diplomas were then presented to the young ladies, who received them gracefully. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. W. Miller and then many hastened to the stage to congratulate the young ladies on their graduation. The floor was then cleared and dancing was enjoyed.

WILL FORM ILLINOIS
DRY GOODS ASSOCIATION

A movement is in progress for the formation of a state association of drygoods merchants, dealers in ladies' ready-to-wear goods and department store men, the organization to be known as the Illinois Dry Goods Mens' association. Representatives of each dry goods and ready-to-wear store in Jacksonville met at 3:30 Monday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms to consider the sending of representatives to a meeting of dry goods men in Peoria, July 8, at which time it is planned to launch the new organization. Every merchant in Springfield, it is understood, will send a representative and a large number of stores in Quincy, Galesburg and other cities. The subject was presented the local men by Mr. Linder of New York City, who has assisted in the formation of dry goods mens' organizations in several states.

SENATOR KENYON IS HOPEFUL.
Senator William S. Kenyon of Iowa, whose record has been conspicuously progressive, addressed the republican harmony banquet at Omaha recently, and spoke encouragingly of the future of the party. Pointing out the folly of party division, he added: "If bosses get into the party, are we going to get out of the party and leave the party to bosses. If burglars get into your house, are you going to abandon that house and leave it to the burglars in the future?" Like many others, Senator Kenyon has discovered that ex-President Taft was misrepresented and unjustly treated. Concerning the former president, he said: "I want to say, too, gentlemen, that I think William Howard Taft was a much misrepresented man. In my opinion he was the victim of the great trusts and combinations whom he fought as no other president ever fought them. The great rank and file of the progressive party and the great rank and file of the republican party think alike on most important questions. Why should they part? It was simply because some political leaders, who, if the party were together, would find themselves on a political Helena, are striving to keep them apart. But they can't do it. In 1916 in my opinion they will be together on a progressive platform, and will march to victory under the banner of republicanism."

Why Suffer From Rheumatism?
When relief from rheumatic pains may be had at so small a cost it is surprising that anyone should fail to avail himself of it. Joseph Capparelli, Canastota, N. Y., suffered intensely with pains due to rheumatism in his limbs for a long time. A friend told him about Chamberlain's Liniment. One application relieved him wonderfully, and a few days' treatment effected a cure. Many others have found quick relief by applying this liniment. For sale by all druggists.—adv.

The Survival of the Fittest

Never since the beginning of the automobile industry has there been such a determined insistence on genuine motor car value as there is at the present time. The Reo Motor Car Co., has built into THE REO since the very first model a quality which has always been recognized as the utmost in automobile practice and engineering.

REO THE FIFTH is the development of this foresight and sound policy and now stands the greatest of all light four cylinder cars.

The public is now educated to appreciate quality and reputation in a motor car just as in any other commodity, and the inevitable has happened—the demand has settled upon a motor car with a reputation, experience and stability behind it. The day of the makeshift is over.

The popularity of the REO this year is a natural outgrowth of this insistent demand for quality. Now that the time has arrived when motor car purchases are made on merit alone, REO THE FIFTH has been fittingly and deservedly acclaimed the greatest light four cylinder car ever produced.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Take this in liquid or tablet form as a tonic and regulator!

Mrs. Kate D. Richardson, of Beasley, Essex Co., Va., says: "I esteem it a pleasure to testify to the wonderful curative qualities of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For some years I suffered greatly with weakness peculiar to my sex. I was treated by several physicians but gradually grew worse. One of my friends told me of the good results of your 'Favorite Prescription.' I went to the drug store and got a bottle, and after taking it, with the 'Pleasant Pellets,' I commenced to get better. I never knew what happiness was, for I was always sick and complaining and made others as well as myself unhappy. So you see what a debt I owe you!"
